CNE: HUMAN METAPNEUMOVIRUS

Presenter: Ms Shahnaj

Date: 25th January 2025

Venue: Seminar Hall, ACN

Audience: All faculty

Ms Shahnaj, clinical instructor from the department of ADULT HEALTH NURSING conducted an insightful Continuing Nursing Education (CNE) session on Human Metapneumovirus (HMPV) on 25th January 2025 at the Seminar Hall, ACN, JRC. The session aimed to enhance the understanding of this emerging respiratory pathogen, focusing on its epidemiology, clinical presentation, diagnosis, management, and prevention strategies. The session provided a comprehensive understanding of Human Metapneumovirus and its impact on public health. It emphasized the importance of early recognition, supportive management, and stringent infection prevention measures. Ms Shahnaj's presentation was well-received, fostering greater awareness among nursing professionals.
