S.No.	Overall positive remarks by the students about the whole PD session
1	Most of them liked and appreciated some key training modules such as Resume Writing, Interview Skills development, Decision Making concepts etc.
2	Undoubtedly, most of the students gave feedback that the session was quite useful, and innovative and contributed to their personal and professional growth
3	They had appreciated the concepts we covered in our modules and they liked the syllabus.

S.No.	Some negative concerns about PD Session as remarked by students
1	Some students were seen passive and overloaded due to back to back modules.
2	Their academic knowledge was observed average during interviews.
3	Some students failed to keep up their tempo as they got various academic and administrative instructions during session specially related to their research work and leave issues.

S.No.	Our recommendations
1	The academic knowledge need to be updated so that students feel confident in their upcoming interview schedules.
2	There is no doubt that about 15 modules within 3 days along with personal interview of 50 students was a daunting task for students and us too. If feasible, PDP program can be parted into two or three sessions with an interval of 2-3 months.
3	We suggest a MoU between college and Success Mantra where we suggest proper training calendar so that effectively of PDP can be enhanced.
4	The faculty members who are little free during their classes, can attend PDP session to have 360 degree of feedback these sessions.
5	The students should be counseled by class teachers about the utility of PDP sessions and they must be asked to be participative and active learn

It was a wonderful session.
